CONSULTANCY SERVICES - TIME AND COST SAVINGS

ŠKODA PRAHA offers consultancy services to parties in (potential) disputes related to energy investment projects based on its long term experiences. For example, within amicable dispute settlement procedure according to FIDIC Conditions of Contracts, we are ready to prepare an analysis of the technical conditions of the work, including business relations, to create space for achieving consensus and settlement agreement. ŠKODA PRAHA puts emphasis on precise preparation of amicable dispute settlement procedure, consisting, among others, of analysis of future development of the project and financial impact of all development variants. This approach has shown up as the most successful in all projects ŠKODA PRAHA has participated. Main benefits of using our consultancy services would be time and cost savings, preservation of future proper relationship between the business partners and emphasis on win-win solutions with incomparably lower expenses than in case of a dispute.
